

SS2010

SPACE COLLEGIATE

Still heavily 90-ties in feel, the collection is moving away from the tribal and dark fairy tale signatures and focusing on a futuristic, space age take on collegiate sportswear. An Ivy League futuristic robot princess partial to slouchy tailoring and quirky silhouettes falls for the captain of the American football space college team. An addition to the collection the “Space Cage” American football sunglasses in collaboration with “Linda Farrow Vintage”.

“KTZ” continues to be a coveted label, with a celebrity following of Katie Perry, Britney Spears, Lady Gaga, La Rue and Courtney Love all sporting the SS2009 and AW2009 creations.
