

Fannie Schiavoni Biography

Born in Sweden, Fannie Schiavoni moved to London when she was 18 to study tailoring. She later progressed to the BA Fashion Design Technology course at London College of Fashion and did a number of internships alongside her studies for designers such as Hussein Chalayan, Giles Deacon and Julien Macdonald.

Her background in tailoring created a passion for handcraft and attention to detail. This is reflected in her accessories pieces, which are hand crafted and constructed by Fannie in her London studio.

Renowned for her original signature chain accessories, Fannie's focus is on durable, hard wearing materials and distinctive designs. Her scandinavian background brings a love for anything clean and structural. She works with muted colours to keep the focus on the shape and design of her pieces.

After securing high-end stockists, such as Browns Focus, 127 and Kabiri while still studying at London College of Fashion, Fannie is now set for international success for the S/S 10 season.
